

Bridge Authority Is Hopeful

Kingston, while it has yet "no bridge to look at," has provided "fine quarters," for the office of the New York State Bridge Authority, William K. Hugginbotham, executive officer of the authority, said yesterday. The office was moved to the second floor of the Cornell building on Ferry street after James F. Loughran, Ulster county superintendent of highways, was named chairman of the authority. The first office of the authority was at Hudson. It moved to Catskill, then to Poughkeepsie, and from that city to its present location. The executive officer, who lives at Catskill, said he used to see two bridges a day, and while he sees none over the Hudson now from here, he is hopeful that "we'll see one" someday soon. With the executive officer above (center) are his assistants, Edward J. Burns, auditor and Miss Lena Brady, secretary. Hubert F. Cosgrove, who has charge of affairs concerning the Rhinebeck-Kingston ferry, was not present when the photo was taken. (Freeman Photo)

Landi Possessions Will Be Auctioned At 'Bright Acres'

Buyers Expected to Flock to Home of Actress; Cancer Research to Get Portion

The contents of "Bright Acres," summer estate of the late well known actress, Elissa Landi, will be sold at auction Saturday, June 4.

The sale of antique and modern furnishings valued at "many thousands of dollars" is expected to attract hundreds of persons from all over the country to the estate on Route 28 outside Kingston, according to Fred J. Johnston, director of the sale, who made the announcement today.

Five per cent of the proceeds of the sale will go to the Chicago Tumor Institute to further research in cancer, the disease which claimed the actress' life October 21, 1948. The sale and the contribution to cancer research was ordered by the late actress' husband, Curtis Thomas.

In addition to the furnishings at "Bright Acres," items removed from Miss Landi's homes in London and Hollywood and from her New York city apartment will also be offered for sale at the public auction.

An exceptionally fine collection of Oriental rugs and French tapestry will be offered, as will be a group of 17th, 18th and 19th century antique furniture, Spanish and Italian pieces are included. French, English and American antique furniture and decorations will also be offered at the auction.

Bear Family Crest Among the modern items offered will be many expensive household items including washing machines, mangle, refrigerator and the like. The modern suite of furniture from Miss Landi's dressing room in Hollywood will be brought here for the sale.

Miss Landi was the daughter of a titled Austrian family and many of the items bear the family crest. China and silver items are included in the sale.

The sale will begin 9:30 a. m. Saturday, June 4, on the "Bright Acres" premises. Auctioneers will be supplied by Hudson Valley Auctioneers. Luncheon will be served by the First Dutch Church of Kingston.

Miss Landi, internationally known stage star and author, began her career in this country with appearances on Broadway in the show, "Farewell to Arms." She starred in Hollywood for both Fox and Paramount studios. Some of her outstanding pictures included "The Yellow Ticket," "Sign of the Cross" and "The Warrior Husband."

Played Locally

During the last several years of her life she made regular appearances at the Woodstock Playhouse. Her career came to an end last year with her death at Kingston Hospital on October 21 of cancer. Her estate will go to her four-year-old daughter, Curtis Thomas, the actress' husband, was named administrator.

Automobiles driven by Howard Houghtaling, 67 Lafayette avenue, and Anthony Fubino, Glasco, were slightly damaged when they collided at the intersection of Grant and Prince street at 7:50 a. m. today, the police reported. There were no personal injuries, according to the report.

Can't Use Union Shop Section in 'Captive' Mine Contracts

Washington, May 28 (AP)—John L. Lewis, now opening contract talks with southern coal operators, had blunt notice from the government today that a clause he customarily insists on in his contracts is against the law.

In a ruling with possible far-reaching effects, the National Labor Relations Board held unanimously yesterday that the union shop clause of Lewis' present contract with the "captive" coal mines is a violation of the Taft-Hartley Act.

While this case involves only the mines owned by steel companies for their private use, the same clause appears in the United Mine Workers' agreements with the whole industry. It has been there for eight years.

The clause requires all the miners to "be or become" U.M.W. members or get fired.

Such clauses are legal—but only when a majority of the workers vote their approval in an N.L.R.B. election. The coal miners have had no such election, because U.M.W. officers have not filed non-Communist oaths or a financial report with the board, and thus are denied use of N.L.R.B. machinery under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Therefore, the board said, the union had no right to such a clause—and certainly no right to strike for it, as the nine workers voted for seven days last July.

Lewis had claimed that was not a strike, but only the miners' refusal to work without a contract. The board disagreed flatly.

The subsequent contract, as well as U.M.W. contracts with northern and southern soft coal operators, expires June 30. Negotiations for a new contract with the southern operators have started in Bluefield, W. Va., but have been delayed.

Lewis is expected to appeal the N.L.R.B. decision—to the Supreme Court, if necessary. Meanwhile he refused to comment, as did the U. S. Steel Corp., which owns some of the captive mines.

Trooper on Traffic Duty Struck by Car Driven by Man, 80

Trooper August Hunka, 28, of the New York State Police, was struck and injured by an automobile on Route 9W one mile south of Saugerties shortly after 10 a. m. today, state police reported.

Trooper Hunka was brought to the Kingston Hospital by a W. N. Conner ambulance. X-rays disclosed no broken bones and the report from the hospital showed he suffered from contusions and abrasions. He was not seriously hurt, state police reported.

The state trooper, who is attached to the Lake Katrine sub-station, was directing traffic on Route 9W near Helen's Cabins, Barclay Heights, when the accident occurred.

According to the state police report, Trooper Hunka was struck by a 1929 Hupmobile sedan operated by Schuyler Colfax Bishop, 80, of Coxsackie, who was traveling south and either failed to stop or was unable to do so when signalled by the trooper. Bishop was taken to the Lake Katrine sub-station for questioning, but up to press time today no charges had been placed against him, state police said.

Dionne Quints 15 Today, Are Unspoiled Little Girls

Callander, Ont., May 28 (UP)—The Dionne quintuplets are 15 years old today—intelligent, unspoiled little girls.

They plan a happy family celebration with their parents, Olive and Elvira Dionne, and the other children of the family. Sunday they plan a party in honor of their father.

The girls, Arnette, Emilie, Yvonne, Cecile and Marie, still are uninterested in dates and fine clothing. None of them uses powder, rouge or other makeup.

"That will come soon enough," says Sister Aimee Des Anjers, head of their school. "We want them to stay little girls as long as they can."

They dress alike—usually in dark blue jumpers with bright blouses—and are so amazingly similar in appearance that few can tell them apart, except for Marie. She wears glasses.

The girls go to school in the reconverted nursery built with money from movie, photo and magazine earnings, and royalties.

Ford and Union Battle 13 Hours

Detroit, May 28 (AP)—Thirteen hours of continuous all-night peace talks left the nearly 24-day-old Ford strike idling 106,000 still unsettled today.

Negotiators called off the long session at 9:25 a. m. (E.S.T.) and set another for 8 p. m. (E.S.T.) tonight.

Two issues—choice of an arbitrator to settle the dispute over manpower on assembly lines, and the disciplining of 35 Ford workers after the strike began—held up an expected settlement.

Esopus Chamber Booms Town With Pictorial Brochure

A very attractive 12-page folder has just been issued by the Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce in which the vacation and industrial facilities of the town are outlined. The folders, printed by The Freeman Publishing Company, contain numerous pictures of town of Esopus activities and an aerial view of Mirror Lake and adjacent territory.

Inside the folder is a map of the township on which is located the highways and communities of Port Ewen, Ulster Park, West Park, Esopus, Rifton, St. Reny and Connelly.

This year 10,000 copies of the folder have been printed for distribution. Listed this year are hotels and boarding houses, bungalows, camps and tourist houses as well as restaurants, taverns, fruit growers and a general business directory of the area.

In connection with the highway map, there is also listed means of transportation by which the area can be reached from metropolitan New York, including trains, buses and the Hudson River Day Line to Poughkeepsie with bus and taxi connections direct to the town of Esopus area.

Information centers are maintained at the town clerk's office in Port Ewen, John Beaver's gas station in Esopus, Charles Kidd's service station in Rifton and the Clarence Wells station at Ulster Park. General information may be obtained through the Chamber of Commerce, Port Ewen.

These folders will be distributed locally and also through the Ulster County Publicity Bureau, Court House, Kingston; the Greene-Ulster Counties Vacation land facilities and through the 187 travel agencies, transportation lines and other bureaus which distribute local publicity folders.

Last year Ed Huben, for the Ulster County Vacation Association, reported folders had been distributed in 15 states and in Canada. Two enterprising towns of Esopus residents who attended the American Legion convention in Florida also aided in distributing their township folders.

Former Supervisor John Groves and Thomas Bohan, Chamber of Commerce president, distributed over 2,000 of the township folders to delegates attending the convention. These folders went into practically every state in the union and some as far away as Hawaii.

Police Stop Horn

The horn of an automobile in a locked garage on Lucas avenue near Joy's Lane began sounding; continuously about 4 o'clock this morning. Acting on complaint from residents of the area, Patrolman Edward Leonard and Thomas McGraw tried without success to locate the owner of the garage, and finally found it necessary to force their way into the garage by removing a rear window, so that the horn could be disconnected.

10-Cent Parking

New York, May 28 (UP)—The city's new traffic commission has indicated it may recommend a minimum rate of 10 cents an hour for the parking meters it proposes to test here. John C. Riedel, commission chairman, said yesterday the group hoped to have the first meters in operation by next fall. He reported the number to be used in the trial had been stepped up from 1,000 to 1,500. The first meters are likely to be installed in heavily congested shopping areas in Queens, Brooklyn and the Bronx.

Plumbing Shop Is Destroyed by Fire

$2,000 Loss Estimated by Uptown Owner; Cause Unknown

Fire of undetermined cause destroyed a frame plumbing shop and an estimated $2,000 worth of plumbing supplies and tools at 61 Murphy street at 9:45 p. m. Friday, the fire department reported.

Two hydrant streams were played on the fire by firemen from Central and Wiltwyck stations and volunteers of the Excelsior Hose Company, but the building could not be saved. The entire structure was already in flames on the arrival of the department according to Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford.

William Reid, owner, told firemen he had left the shop at 8 p. m., at which time everything was apparently in order and there was no fire in the heating unit.

About 9:40 p. m., Reid said, he saw the fire from his home, and while he was removing his automobile from the path of the flames a neighbor turned in the alarm.

The estimate of damage to the tools and equipment was made by Reid. The building was insured, he told firemen.

Patrolman Thomas Tomshaw directed the heavy holiday traffic which was coming over the Washington avenue viaduct in the vicinity of the fire. Patrolmen Kenneth Stratton and Claude Haines were also dispatched to the scene.

Firemen battled the flames for almost 45 minutes before they were under control.

Navy Ship Will Dock Here Over Memorial Day

Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, U.S.N., commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, notified Herman E. Gottfried that he has ordered the U.S.S. PC-364 to Kingston over the Memorial Day week-end. The ship will arrive at or about 6 p. m. today and will depart the morning of May 31.

The ship, due to the kindness of Amos Newcombe, will dock at the Newcombe oil dock and will be open for public inspection Sunday and Monday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. This vessel was commissioned on July 2, 1942, and spent the entire war period in the Atlantic and European waters.

It had a very illustrious history. During the early part of the war she was on convoy duty in the Atlantic and participated in many hunter-killer submarine attacks. In June, 1944, she took part in the invasion of Omaha Beach and was under shell fire continuously for three days.

On March 8, 1945 she patrolled the German channel islands and was hit by shore batteries off the Normandy coast. Later she was severely damaged and was severely shot up as a result of which the ship was beached and one-third of the crew was taken prisoners.

This vessel was later salvaged and returned to the United States. The ship is commanded by Captain D. L. Warner. The crew consists of five officers and 75 men.

Truman Asks Peace Prayers On 81st U.S. Memorial Day

(By The Associated Press)

The nation will observe its 81st annual Memorial Day Monday with prayers for enduring peace and homage for its hero dead who fell on the field of battle.

All across the land—in hallowed Arlington Cemetery, in tree-shaded country churchyards—Americans will gather to pay their solemn tribute to those who died in their country's cause.

Only through "divine guidance" can the world avert another war, President Truman said in a proclamation calling on his countrymen to observe Memorial Day with a nationwide prayer for peace.

"This sacred day," Mr. Truman said, "is a fitting occasion on which the people of our nation, all of whom, directly or indirectly, have been bereft by war's terrible toll, may appeal to Almighty God for help in turning the steps of the world to the paths of permanent peace."

The graves of the dead will bloom afresh in thousands of cemeteries throughout the country. Wreaths will be placed on the tombs of the Unknown Soldier in Paris, London and in Arlington National Cemetery. Sen. Milard Tydings (D-Md.) chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee,

23 Contributors Give $30,000 to U.J.A. Drive Here

Meeting at Levine Home Starts Local Campaign for $165,000 to Keep Israel Doors Open

A total of $30,000 was raised from a group of 23 contributors at the initial meeting of the United Jewish Appeal in Kingston Thursday night, Nathaniel B. Gross, chairman of the drive, reported.

Kingston and its vicinity will seek to raise its quota of $165,000 of the national goal of $250,000,000 set by the U.J.A. in its objective this year of emptying the displaced persons camps in Europe and to keep the doors of Israel open to all those who are homeless and desire to make this new state their home.

Thursdays' meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Levine, 105 Mountain View avenue, was attended by representatives from Kingston, Poughkeepsie and several other parts of Ulster county.

The group was addressed by Rabbi Max Schenck of Australia, world traveler and lecturer who during the past war was chaplain to all Jewish troops in the North Pacific area.

Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of this city, who was a classmate of Rabbi Schenck 25 years ago, introduced him to the group. Rabbi Frank D. Plotke gave a graphic description of the life in Germany during

Reade's Drive-In Opening Draws 900 Cars Friday Night

Theatre Bosses, Town Officials Pleased; Party Held for Guests After Show

The opening of Reade's 9W Drive-In Theatre drew approximately 900 cars to the new outdoor movie lot on the Saugerties road Friday night for the program featuring free refreshments and a first run picture.

Walter Reade, Jr., was present for the occasion and with Robert W. Case, city manager for the theatre chain, greeted special guests at a party in Judge's Restaurant after the show.

Young Reade said he was highly pleased with the public's reception of the new 9W Drive-In. "The theatre isn't completed," he added, "we have considerable work to do before it meets our original specifications."

Complete in June

The theatre management will continue right along with improvements, including the laying of solid paving, and it should meet all the standards as planned by the middle of June, he estimated.

Patrons began arriving long before dusk, the time set for beginning outdoor movies, and when the welcome notice was flashed on the giant screen the lot was crowded with autos filled with adults and children.

British Source Declares No Surprise Likely in Document From West Nations

Asks for Agency

Vishinsky Proposes That Old Council Be Used for Control

Paris, May 28, (AP)—The western power proposal for reuniting Germany will be submitted to Russia today, an official British source said.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman met in an unheralded session at the French Foreign Office this morning and approved the plan, this source said.

The three western ministers remained in session until 1 a. m. (7 a. m. E.S.T.). None would comment as he left the ministry. In answer to a question, the British source declared "there are unlikely to be any surprises in the western document."

The proposal now will be laid before Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky in a Four-Power session.

That session convened this afternoon. It is expected to be brief. Western ministers expect Vishinsky to ask for time to digest their plan. He may give his answer to it Monday.

Basic idea of the western plan is to extend over all of Germany the governmental system now in force in the western zones. This would bring the Bonn constitution into the Russian zone as a replacement for the Soviet design now in force there.

Wants German Agency

The Russians have given no indication that they would find the western model acceptable. Vishinsky has proposed instead that the old allied control council be re-established and that, under it, a new German agency be created.

From a long list of proposals passed on to it by the four powers—if they could by the four powers—the failure of the four powers to agree in the past on the operation of controls over Germany caused the United States, Britain and France to set up the separate system for the three western zones.

British sources said the western ministers also were discussing Berlin's latest situation, resulting from a week-old strike of German railroad employees by Soviet-appointed authorities.

The strike has led to a pileup of rail traffic. Effect of all this, in the western view, is that a minor blockade of the western sectors of Berlin has come about.

The three ministers presumably were to decide today whether they should take joint action in the conference room by protesting to Vishinsky that Russia is breaching the New York agreement which ended the blockade. The west either can raise the whole matter in the conference or they can send Vishinsky a stiff note of protest. The first course is considered by British sources to be more likely.

Official western sources indicated the western blueprint for German unity may leave open the question of veto power in the control commission.

Vishinsky Wants Veto

In proposing restoration of four-power control, Vishinsky has insisted upon the principle of unanimity (the veto) in the control body. He did not use the word veto.

France is said to be unwilling to give up even limited use of the veto which the occupation statute allows her.

Western sources believe the

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, May 26—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fuller of New York, together with their sons, George and Kenneth, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haas, and grandson, Robert Jr., spent Sunday with Mrs. Fuller's mother, Mrs. C. G. Fuller of Mountain Laurel Lodge.

Robert Secor, employee of the up-town Bull Markets and formerly a storekeeper here, spent Monday morning in Shokan where he still has real estate holdings.

"Mountain" the widely known and highly interesting Margareville newspaper columnist, tells of a four-year-old boy of his burg who recently caught an 11½-inch trout without assistance from anyone. The youngster dug the worm, baited the hook, landed his trout and then spent the rest of the morning tending to the trout while modestly insisting "Me done good."

John Warren of East Jewett was in town last week in the course of his annual trip to the Coons burying ground on the mountain. John was brought up by the Henry Coons family whose farm home was the present E. C. Bostock place, and following his marriage he resided on the George Thost place in the village. He is well informed on matters pertaining to people and events in the Coons district, in years long gone by.

Children in the village center Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Albert White and vivacious small daughter, Carol Ann, of Kingston. Alfred, a one time pupil of the Shokan school, is now numbered among the 1,300 employees of the Federal Boring plant in Poughkeepsie. He served three years in the late war and while a member of the Airborne Re-supply Squadron was stationed in seven European countries.

The reported death, recently, of Travis Faulker of Arkville not only placed the one time Halcottville resident in the same distinguished category with Mark Twain (whose death also was "greatly exaggerated"), but provides an interesting local angle as well. It appears that when Elder Arnold Belows, pastor of the Olive-Hurley O. S. Baptist Church, read in one of the Delaware papers of his friend Faulker's passing, he hurried up to Arkville to offer sympathy to the bereaved (?) wife, who readily thanked him for his kindness, thinking he referred to her husband's illness. Then, upon being asked if he would "see Mr. Faulker," the elder answered "Yes" and upon entering the bedroom to pay his last respects, was properly astounded when the supposedly dead man arose in bed with a hearty "Good morning, Elder Belows."

Of the reporter who unwittingly made the "exaggeration," nothing is said, though it may be supposed that his face still is very red. Indeed, Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols are again at their Bokeville road home after having spent a few days with their son, George, who has a farm at Saratoga.

John Arnold, who died May 17, at Albany Hospital following a long illness, had a number of friends and relatives in Shokan where he and his family formerly made their home. Since leaving Shokan he had operated a large farm at Guilderland where he specialized in pigs and also raised big crops of watermelons, etc., for the Albany and Schenectady markets. While in Shokan, some 25 years ago, he was well-known locally for his advanced ideas and successful practice in the poultry industry, being one of the first residents to introduce the White Wyandotte breed of fowl here on a large scale. Mrs. Arnold is the former Lottie Elmendorf, daughter of the late Henry and Sarah (Coons) Elmendorf of Shokan.

Esther Risley, one of Shandaken's best known citizens, had a birthday on Monday, May 23. Miss Risley is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Weeks whose home was the present Tuckling old stone farmhouse here.

Santi Nadal of Bryn Athyn, Pa., called on several of his local friends in the course of a week-end trip to this section.

John and James Rutherford, the north reservoir country's only bachelor brothers and farmers, reportedly are planning to erect a three-room bungalow on their woodland along the west side of the Ridge road. "John and Jim" have had a cash buyer for their farm for some time, and the bungalow project presumably is contingent upon the consummation of this sale. The brothers originally expected to build a small home on their Ontonoga Trail woodland property, near the Wendt garage.

Shokan, May 27—People from all sections of the reservoir country plan to attend the Memorial Day exercises Monday afternoon at Olive Bridge where a parade and other ceremonies will take place under the auspices of the Olive Post of the American Legion. The parade, in which war veterans, Scout troops and other organizations will participate, is scheduled to start from the fire house at 1:45 o'clock and proceed up the main street of the village to the servicemen's memorial plaque at the church. The program on the church grounds—or inside the building if the weather is bad—includes an address by Arthur Trowbridge and the firing of a salute to departed comrades. Here, also, prizes will be awarded to winners of the school students' essays contest sponsored by the local Legion Post. It is expected that a large crowd of patriotic citizens will assemble in historic old Tongore, where Andries Davis and James Winchell of Washington's Army and men of every American war have lived and are buried, in their native soil.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Shurter are reported to have sold their village center to out of town people who expect to occupy the premises some time in June. The Shurters came here two years ago from Phoenixia where they had long been prominent in the business and social life of the community. The house, one of the largest and best constructed residences in the twin villages, was built by the late Augustus Greco in post-warwater years.

Edwin Swenson who, with his wife and son removed to the Homer Markle place from Locust Valley in March, has received shipments of baby chicks and is engaged in improving the Markle acreage first developed by Mrs. Swenson's paternal ancestors.

Emerich Lukacs, local volunteer fireman and Legion Post official, has improved the dam across the East Butternutkill at his place and now has sufficient head of water to float a boat.

Folks are beginning to wonder when the proposed project of laying blacktop strips along the concrete pavement of the state road through the villages will get underway. What with the disagreeable features which attended the roadwork in Ashokan through the long, dusty summer of last year fresh in their minds, local people would like to see this other job completed before the seasonal rush of traffic begins. Not much time left, now.

Memorial Day, Born in South, Is Now Global

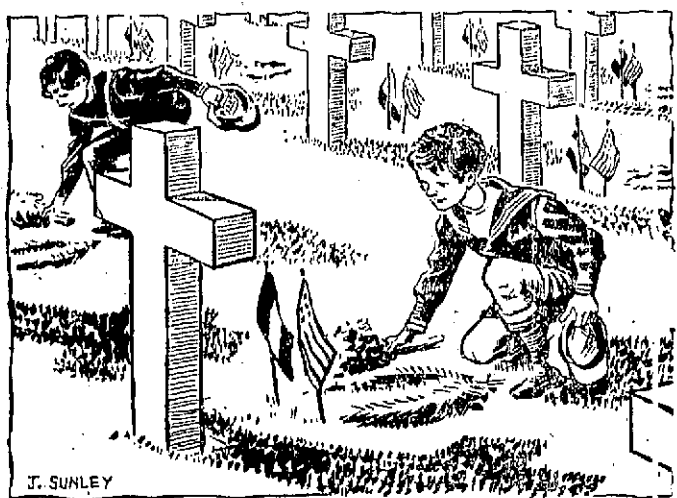

Memorial Day, fittingly enough, was inspired by the South, whose countryside was the chief battleground of the War Between the States. In March, 1868, Mrs. John A. Logan, wife of the famous Union commander, visited battlefields in Virginia. She was particularly touched by the way graves of Confederate dead were decorated with flowers and tiny Confederate flags. General Logan ...

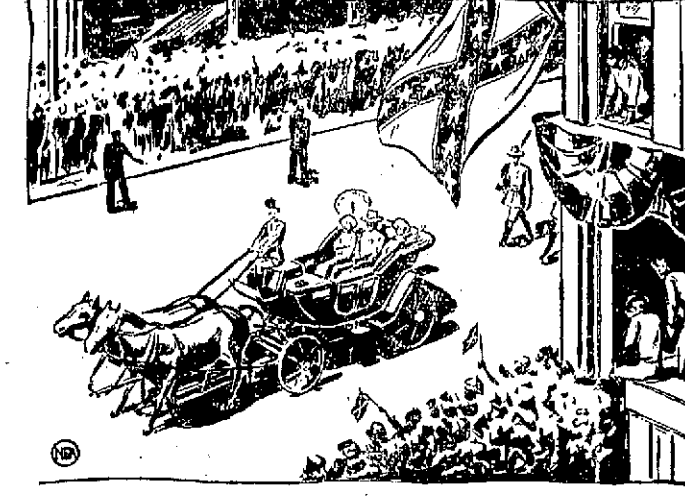

... was much interested in her account, agreed it was a beautiful custom and, as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued his famous General Order No. 11, designating May 30, 1868, as the day when the G. A. R. should decorate graves of comrades who died in defense of their country. The order was obeyed by G. A. R. posts, and by May 30, the next year ...

Memorial Day was fully established as a regular institution through most of the country. Because of its original purpose—the decoration of soldiers' graves—its formal observance had a military aspect from the first. For many years the day was in charge of the G. A. R. posts of every community. Observance consisted of a military and civic parade to the cemetery for appropriate exercises. Leading citizens and outstanding veterans made memorial addresses. A flag was placed on every soldier's grave, which was strewn with flowers. Firing squads volleyed over the graves as the bugler sounded "Taps." Today the exercises are much the same, except that the American Legion is in charge and the parade now includes civic officials, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and fraternal organizations. Also Memorial Day's scope ...

... widened as North and South united to fight foreign foes in new wars. After the Spanish-American War, Memorial Day ceremonies included honors for veterans of that conflict and the posts of the Spanish-American War Veterans contributed marches to every parade. Its observance became international when, following World War I, the grateful French people decorated graves in American military cemeteries in France. American graves in England and other European countries were also decorated. After World War II, Memorial Day became truly a global institution, for on May 30 honor is paid to American fighters whose final rest places are scattered from Germany to Africa and from Australia to Okinawa and all the seas between. Usually a legal holiday, May 30 is observed ...

In all states of the Union, the District of Columbia and the territories and possessions except in certain of the Southern states that prefer their own appointed time to observe Confederate Memorial Day, sponsored by the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Confederate Southern Memorial Associations, April 26 is Confederate Memorial Day in Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi. In Louisiana and Tennessee, June 3, Jefferson Davis' birthday, is observed as Memorial Day. North and South Carolina state aside May 10, while Virginia observes May 30 as Confederate Memorial Day. Attempts have been made to merge all observances into an International Memorial Day on May 30, but without success. Many southerners feel that as the idea of Memorial Day started in the South, and was adopted by the North, any change of dates should conform to the April 26 commemoration rather than the later date.

ELLENVILLE

156th Will Parade In Ellenville Monday

Ellenville, May 28—The comprehensive program for observance of Memorial Day in Ellenville under direction of the Ellenville Veterans Council, is completed. It will include a parade, to start promptly at 9 a. m. Monday, serving at the memorial trees at the O. & W. station, at the monument on the Veterans Memorial Hospital grounds and at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument in Fancinckill Cemetery. Returning to the village there will be brief exercises at the Honor Roll in Liberty Square.

The 156th Field Artillery of Kingston, with 200 men and equipment, is scheduled to take part in the parade; also the three veterans organizations of the village and their auxiliaries, the Napanoch Guards, the Napanoch Boys Club, pupils of the Ellenville schools, Daughters of the Union, Gold Star Mothers and town and village officials. Clayton's Military Band and the High School Band, with possibly a third, will furnish music.

Principal speakers of the day will be Mayor Henry L. Schipp at the hospital monument, the Rev. William Coombe and Major William C. Mackelvie, executive officer of the 156th, at the Fancinckill Cemetery monument, where the old G. A. R. ritual will be held. Up to 30 years ago the veterans of the Civil War faithfully carried out the observance of the day. In 1920 the American Legion Post took over and in 1946 the Veterans Council, representing the three present organizations, accepted the obligation.

Waiting for Purse

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The jurors in Judith Coplon's espionage trial still are waiting to see what was in her purse when she was arrested. Prosecutors John M. Kelley, Jr. and Raymond P. Whearty said today they hope to begin showing the jury the contents of the purse Tuesday. Miss Coplon, 28, a tiny brunette, has repeatedly denied in sworn statements she engaged in espionage activity.

History of the Church

In a booklet commemorating the jubilee, the establishment of the church is recorded as follows: Settlement in this area along the river a few miles south of the present city of Kingston, had received an impetus by the opening in 1828 of the Delaware and Hudson Canal, which from the beginning was black with barges freighted with coal between Honesdale, Pa., and the port of Rondout. The transportation workers, most of Irish and some German Catholics, old and young, followed along the river and Rondout Creek and they infiltrated the districts that had been devoted mainly to farming before. In 1851, the Village of Port Ewen was founded by the Pennsylvania Coal Company, which maintained a depot there. It was in honor of the president of that company, John Ewen, that the village received its name.

At a time prior to the Civil War, it was recognized that provision would have to be made for a church to serve the Catholic population, and in 1861, Archbishop Hughes of New York bought two lots of land from the coal company. No construction was attempted for some years, however, and the Catholics of the district remained members of St. Mary's parish in the village of Rondout, which was to become part of the City of Kingston in 1872. For the benefit of those who could not make the journey to the parish church, a priest drove over from Rondout once a month to offer Mass in a public hall or private dwelling.

The upper picture shows the church, rectory and parish hall of the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, which is celebrating its diamond jubilee. In the lower picture is the interior of the church (Freeman Photos) establishment of an independent parish.

It was in 1873 that the pastor of St. Mary's parish, the Rev. Michael C. O'Farrell, decided on the construction of a church in Port Ewen. Excavations were begun in the fall of that year, and on November the second, the cornerstone was laid. The Archbishop's Vicar General, the Rev. William Quinn, officiated at the ceremony and preached the sermon. Father Michael J. Phelan took charge, on that day, as the first pastor of the infant parish; he had been ordained in the Seminary at Troy only two years before. Father O'Farrell, who was also present at the ceremonies, transferred a sum of over three thousand dollars as a birthday present from the parent parish in Rondout, and with the help of this generous gift, the work on the superstructure could be started at once.

Father Phelan dwelt in a house at the top of the hill, and early every morning he would be seen coming down and going around from door to door, to enlist men who were able and willing to labor, for the day, on the job of construction. This House of God was to be literally the work of the hands of his people.

Although Mass was offered in the unfinished building at Christmas, it was at Easter of 1874 that the completed church was opened for divine services. In June, Archbishop McCloskey came to bless and dedicate the edifice, and in his sermon he congratulated the people on their achievement, and encouraged them to future loyalty. Catholics, old and young, took a pardonable pride in what they affectionately referred to as "a church of our own." With its red brick walls set in the dignity of fourteenth century Gothic style, and with the cross atop its spire being sixty feet aloft, the structure stood out prominently among the dwellings that surrounded it, and commanded attention and admiration from all who traveled along the river and the opposite shore. The interior was honey in size and devotion in decoration, the windows being of stained glass and the walls fashioned with plaster imitations of French stone.

At this time, the parish included the territory of Esopus, Edenville and Milton as well as Port Ewen, and people came from all those hamlets to the dedication ceremonies.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Slip in Defense
Spells Success

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

I am afraid the warm weather may interfere with our regular Saturday afternoon bridge games at the New York Athletic Club. You know, I think there is more jovial rubber bridge played in the various athletic clubs around the country than anywhere else.

In one of my recent games I cut Zoltan Szilagyi. He is a consulting engineer in New York. Zolt graduated from Brooklyn Polytechnical College and was at one time a middleweight amateur boxer. His first business adventure in life was teaching boxing at the Germantown Y.M.C.A., Philadelphia.

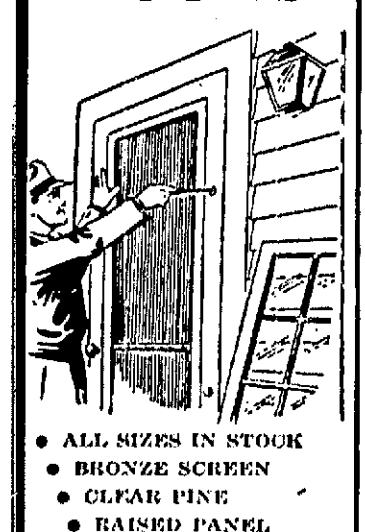

Zolt has an assignment now at a large paper company in Westchester, Me., but he always gets back for the Saturday afternoon game. He also plays a lot of duplicate bridge at the Portland Bridge Club, and he proudly showed me some Master Point certificates, which will make him a Junior Master.

Zolt took advantage of a little slip in the defense to make today's contract. South cashed the ace, king and queen of hearts and shifted to a diamond which Zolt won with the ace. He returned the nine of spades, which dummy won with the jack. The king of spades was then cashed. Then the ten of hearts was played and the deuce of clubs discarded.

Now the king of clubs was led. North covered with the ace and Zolt trumped. He cashed the king of diamonds, ruffed a diamond and discarded the other diamond on the queen of clubs. The last two tricks were won with the ace and queen of spades.

Leftover Meat
A small amount of leftover meat may be put through the food chopper, mixed with a little tomato catsup or salad dressing and used as a filling for French fried sandwiches. Along with a bowl of soup and a dessert of fruit and cookies the sandwiches will make an excellent quick meal.

Timely Attention To Roof's Needs

How long has it been since the roof over your head was checked? Will the roof continue to ward off the elements for another year, or has the weather beaten the "life" out of it?

Roofs too often are taken for granted. Simply because a roof has given good service for many years, home owners forget that it is the most exposed part of a house, subject to unremitting attack. Hot summer suns bake the roof, and rains cool it. Winter's snows and ice freeze it, and winds blowing from every direction seek to rip and tear it.

Most parts of a house "scream" for attention before it is too late. Paint flakes and chips. The furnace "acts up." The refrigerator gets noisy. But a roof silently does its job until weather finally takes its toll. Then, water seeps in.

If ignored, roofers warn, moisture may rot the roof deck, or the wood in the deck may swell and buckle and tear the roof covering. Often, water may make its way inside the walls and emerge far from the source of the leak, cracking the plaster and staining the wallpaper.

Unless a roof is replaced before it ends its useful life, the interior of the house may require repairs. And the cost is likely to exceed the price of a new roof.

Patching an old roof seldom pays. H. R. Snook of the U. S. Bureau of Standards states that "a single apparent leak in a badly weathered roof is usually the forerunner of other larger leaks that will appear in a relatively short time." There comes a time in the life of a roof on every permanent structure when it is no longer practicable or economical to effect repairs. When that time comes, re-roofing is the only solution.

There is more to consider in selecting a roof than just its initial cost. A roof not only should provide trouble-free service for many years, but also it should beautify the home by its rich texture and blended colors, and protect the home from the danger of sparks or flying embers.

Blondes Brighten Rooms
Some of the most striking and beautiful effects in today's furniture are achieved by using blonde wood in combination with trimming of very dark woods. The use of the blonde treatment has resulted in the creation of light, airy effects which tend to brighten the room in which they are used.

First American Paint Mill
The famous "Boston Stone," which was the first paint mill in America was imported from England in the seventeenth century and is now imbedded in a wall on a Boston street corner.

For More Storage Space
To increase storage facilities in the kitchen, the benches in the breakfast nook may be designed to serve as chests or cupboards.

For a Too-Wide Window
Curtains hung inside the window frame will make the window seem narrower.

Fresh Snap Beans
Use fresh snap beans for a delicious and nutritious luncheon dish for school days: Just serve them in a cream or cheese sauce with slices of hard-cooked egg as a garnish. Buttered carrots are good with this dish. Dessert might be raisin-oatmeal cookies and milk.

Peanuts yield oil for salad, cooking, margarine and soap manufacture.

Modernized Plan Has More Space

Even architecture cannot escape transition in today's changing world. For more than 20 years the Cape Cod cottage has been a favorite with home builders, but some of the traditional features of this style are not quite suited to present day construction methods, domestic appliances or modern living habits.

Therefore, the Cape Cod design has been more or less modernized in the design presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service.

Named "The Sandwich" after that well-known Cape Cod community, this plan retains the low, flat appearance that is traditional in this type of a house. High foundations should never be used for a Cape Cod cottage, although frequently such incongruities are seen.

Entrance
To provide plenty of living space on the first floor, with a second floor available for future expansion, was the chief aim of the designers of "The Sandwich." In order to furnish greater bathroom space on the first floor, an ell was added to the front of the house.

Break in Rigidities
A square box-like room, difficult to decorate, can be made more interesting by adding some architectural feature to break the rigid wall outlines. Built-in cupboards are good items to add, taking up little room, especially if used in the corners. A simple chair rail is also helpful, particularly if the room seems over-high. These additions painted the same tint as the rest of the woodwork, break up the wall space admirably and give individuality to the entire room.

Builder Has Word For It; Owner Can Use One, Too

The construction industry has a jargon all its own and it is necessary for the layman who is planning to build or remodel to understand this language. For that reason, the U. S. Bureau of Standards has produced a glossary (Report BMS-91) which succinctly explains the words. Some of the most-used terms follow:

BACKFILL—Replacement of earth in a trench or against a structure.

BEARING WALL—Wall which supports any load in addition to its own weight.

COPING—Cap at top of wall to shed water.

DRY WALL CONSTRUCTION—Interior wall finish in material other than plaster.

DORMER—An internal recess, the framing of which projects from a sloping roof.

FACADE—The face of a building.

FIRE-BARRIER—Solid gypsum or wood block, or mineral wool insulation, between studs to prevent rapid spread of fire through hollow walls.

FLUE—Space in chimney through which smoke and fumes ascend.

FRAMING MEMBERS—Studs, joists, sills, columns, headers, and rafters.

FURRING—Strips of wood or metal applied to a wall.

GABLE—End walls between the slopes of a roof.

HEADER—Beam placed at right angles to joists or studs to provide for chimney, window, door or other opening.

JOISTS—Parallel beams used to support floors and ceilings and in turn supported by larger beams or bearing walls.

LINTEL—Horizontal beam supporting the load over a door or window.

MILLWORK—Finished wood portions of a building such as doors, windows, door frames, usually assembled away from the site.

MULLION—Slender bar dividing units of windows, screens or similar frames.

PIER—Column of masonry supporting other structural members.

POINTING—Filling joints in masonry with mortar under tool pressure for appearance or protection from the elements.

SILL—Large beam resting horizontally on the foundation to which uprights of the frame are fastened.

STUD—Vertical wood or metal, usually 2x4 inches, supporting walls and partitions.

TRIM—Finish materials such as moldings and baseboard around windows and doors or at floors and ceiling of rooms.

Be a Good Mixer
When tinting paint or enamel, don't add a dash of color to the whole can and expect to stir it evenly to one smooth tint. If you do, some of it will not be assimilated and will appear in ugly streaks when you least expect it. Thin the oil color with a little of the paint or enamel, stir thoroughly, then combine the mixture with that in the large container and blend well. See that the last streak of color is absorbed and then strain the whole mixture through a cloth strainer, a piece of window screening or a section of old stocking.

Gallon Per Room
For a two-coat outside repainting job it is safe to get as many gallons of paint as there are rooms in your house.

Carefully Inspect Lot Before Buying
A vacant plot is not always a bargain, particularly if located in an area that is fairly well built up. In such cases there is usually a reason it is vacant. The prospective buyer should examine the land closely because a high growth of weeds may hide a lot of faults.

It is wise to walk across the lot in several directions and note whether it will need an undue amount of filling. Residents of the neighborhood should be queried as to whether water stands on the plot and whether they had excavation difficulties. Solid rock often underlies an area and makes excavation extremely costly.

A few holes made with a post hole digger at various points in the plot will reveal whether it has been filled with garbage or rubbish.

Decorative Ideas With Wallpaper

Wallpaper is limitless in its decorative possibilities. By using it correctly, you may introduce color, texture, pattern and depth to a room. Any flat surface may be papered, so don't think of wallpaper in terms of walls, but think of the screens, table-tops, inside and outside of chests, panels in doors—and yes, even floors!

It is true that a small room will seem smaller if papered. To correct this, we are learning not to paper all four walls. One, two, or three, as the case may be, are papered, and the remaining walls painted the color of the wallpaper background or a contrasting color to the background but harmonizing or blending color to one in the design.

It is wiser to use a well-drawn and expensive paper of unusual but appropriate design on one wall than an ordinary design of a less expensive paper on four walls.

If the wall space is limited but the doors are well balanced, the wallpaper may be limited to the doors, or the doors and an alcove may be papered and the other walls painted. Borders of wallpaper may frame a window, making draperies unnecessary. Bookcases may be lined with wallpaper, creating color and depth to the case. If ceilings are high and rooms large, it is advisable to paper the ceilings the same paper as the walls.

Wallpaper is put up in single, double and triple rolls. It is made 18 inches wide and 30 inches wide. The former is sold in double roll and the latter as a triple roll. Just to make it confusing, wallpaper is priced by the single roll. There are eight feet to a single roll of 18-inch paper and five yards to a 30-inch roll. In figuring the number of rolls each room will need, deduct a single roll for every two average doors or windows.

The cost of papers vary considerably. The paper used may be of a light to very heavy quality; the design may be simple or complicated. Papers made in large quantities are less expensive than those made in smaller quantities. Not only are papers available in floral, scenic and geometric designs, in large and small motifs; but today there are a wide variety of stripes and plaids, and the new designs in texture—texture both simulated and actual. These textured papers give rooms a very new feeling and combine perfectly with the hand-woven look of fabrics and rugs.

Sliding Drainboard
Special feature of a new steel twin-bowl cabinet sink is a sliding drainboard. The board slides on fiber runners and can be used as a work counter over either bowl or removed entirely when both bowls are to be used for dishwashing.

"Below Low Cost—Above High Quality"

The motorist of today is becoming increasingly aware of the danger of picking up hitch-hikers. While he wants to be friendly, he realizes that in picking up strangers he frequently is placing his person and car in jeopardy.

The automobile motorist pounded and finally stopped. Harry (muttering)—I wonder what that knock was?

Cut blonde companion (brightly)—Maybe it was opportunity.

Man—Is your wife a bridge fiend?

Neighbor—Yes, only a fiend could kick as hard as she does.

It would be wonderful to do as you wished. But nobody ever has lived long enough to be able to do just as he pleased.

Don't learn traffic laws by accident. Traffic laws are here to stay—are you? Traffic laws protect you—if you respect them.

Patient—What is the best exercise for reducing?

Doctor—Just move the head slowly from right to left when asked to have a second helping.

A panhandler beseeched a passer-by for a dime for a cup of coffee.

Passer-by—I have no change. Panhandler—OK, give me a dollar, and the next nine times I see you, I won't bother you.

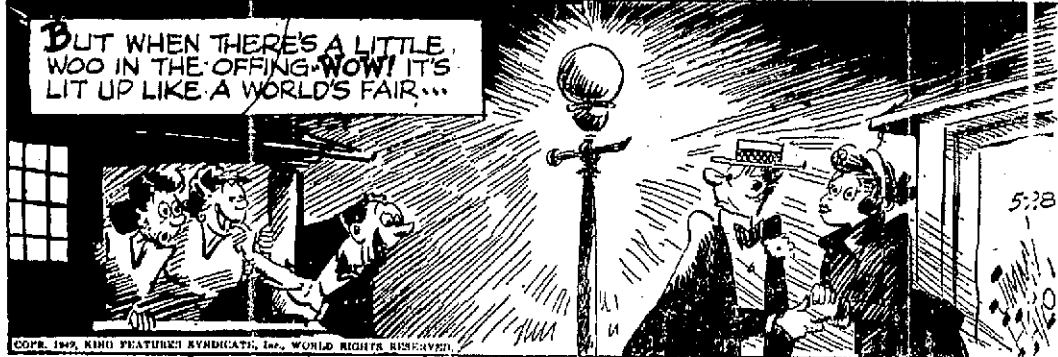

The world measures you not by your promises, but by your achievements. Its prizes go not for excuses, but for results.

"GOD'S WILL!"
Lord of heaven

No more war."

It was God's will."

K.H.S. Class Gives Party as Year's Work Draws to Close

As a climax to their year's work in the home management course at Kingston High School, the students entertained at a party Friday afternoon. Guests were their mothers, home room teachers, Clarence L. Dumm, principal, and James Tobin, guidance counselor.

The girls under the direction of their teacher, Miss Margaret Schuetz, prepared the refreshments of cookies, party cup cakes and fruit punch. They also arranged the table centerpiece, a basket of spring blooms, peonies and iris, using pink and green as the main color scheme.

The course in home management is an advanced home economics course for senior groups. It deals with management problems of the home such as the care of equipment, kitchen utensils, rugs, draperies, home nursing, and during the year the students are assigned several projects to manage.

Members of the class who arranged for the party and acted as hostesses were the Misses Sylvia Bell, Janet Gruber, Barbara Hofbauer, Marjorie Leonard, Mary Ann Kinderman, Jacqueline O'Banks, Shirley Puskow, Ann Sheehan, Rita Sheeley, Betty Short and Beverly Corsiglia.

Motor Manners

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

Mrs. Post's "Motor Manners" is made available to the readers of this newspaper by the National Highway Users' Conference, as a public service.

Q. Why do courteous drivers go to the trouble of removing snow and ice from their cars?
A. In winter weather courteous drivers will remove ice or snow from all windows, including the rear one, as well as from the hood and tail lights. Safety is at stake. Furthermore, no well-mannered person would require a passenger to ride in a blind car any more than he would require his guests to eat dinner in the dark.

Q. Is a loud horn a better warning than a standard one?
A. Trumpet horns—those penetrating signals designed for use on the open road—are as out of place when used in city driving as hobnail shoes in a ballroom. Another indignity is the unnecessary blowing of a horn in a traffic line when it can do no good and is merely annoying to others. People who would never dream of bawling a vocal protest will, at a moment's delay in traffic, blast away at every hesitancy of the car ahead.

Q. Should a driver warn pedestrians by blowing the horn?
A. If it is necessary in order to prevent an accident, the answer is yes. But no polite driver ever charges at an individual or a crowd of persons on foot, howling the horn as if to blast them out of the way.

Making Sundae
Teen-agers enjoy making their own sundaes at a party. Serve one or two kinds of ice cream plus a help-yourself-tray. On the tray can go small bowls of chocolate sauce, sliced peaches, shredded coconut, chopped nuts, marshmallow topping, and raspberry syrup.

Buffet Table
In arranging a buffet table place the silver and china in a symmetrical design so that they will be easy to reach. Unless the table is a very large one it is usually best to bring the dessert, with its accompanying china and silver, after the main course has been served.

Congeniality of Parents
Beside the Mark
It is a very happy situation when the parents of a bride and groom-to-be like each other. I am reminded of this by the following letter: "Please forgive this criticism, but I think you should emphasize that it is important for the parents of the boy and girl to meet before the engagement is announced. I know of several cases where the parents did not meet until afterward, and were very disappointed with each other."

Under usual circumstances they do meet beforehand. But the fact of whether or not they are pleased with each other would hardly change the situation. At least it shouldn't if the young people are certain of their feelings for each other.

A Clothes Situation
Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me what I should wear to my son's graduation? This will be in early June, the weather probably fairly warm, and the exercises in the morning and probably other festivities during the day. I wish to be dressed for the entire day. We are traveling by car, and the college is in a small town.

Answer: I think a becoming point dress would be most suitable. It would be gay and at the same time very serviceable.

Serving Refreshments
Dear Mrs. Post: I was at a large club meeting at which refreshments were served. A tray of forks and spoons was passed first and we each sat fully five minutes before the plates of food were passed. Was this correct? It seems to be that it would have been better to have placed the fork on the refreshment plate and to have placed spoons on the coffee tray for those who wanted them.

Answer: I agree with you. When to Thank Hostess
Dear Mrs. Post: When one has been the guest at a small dinner party, cocktail party or a tea, is it obligatory to telephone within a day or so, to thank the hostess, or is it sufficient to thank her at the end of the party?

Answer: Although thanks at the end of the party are actually sufficient, a hostess is always glad to be told by telephone or note how much her guest enjoyed the party.

Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-35, "The Well-Dressed Woman," is a new leaflet giving up-to-date advice on what to wear for many occasions. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 89, Station G, New York 15, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Witherspoon to Speak At Highland Rites
Capt. Maurice M. Witherspoon, Ch.C., U.S.N. (Ret.), a veteran of both world wars, will deliver the Memorial Day address at the War Memorial in Highland Cemetery, Highland, at 10 a. m. tomorrow. A parade of veterans from Lloyd Post 193, American Legion, Inc., will deliver the address, starting at 9:30 a. m. The program was arranged by John J. Batten, chairman of the Americanism Committee of the post.

Capt. Witherspoon has been director of the Masonic Veterans Service in New York City since his retirement from the navy after 29 years of service. An ordained Presbyterian minister, Capt. Witherspoon served as chaplain on the Wasp during the last war and was decorated for his morale-building work in the Aleutians. He supervised the building of Chapel of the Deep at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, the first church in the sector to be used by all denominations.

Serving Potatoes
A new way to serve potatoes is to peel them and cut them into paper-thin slices, then overlap the slices in rows in a baking dish that has been lightly buttered. Brush the potatoes with melted butter, sprinkle lightly with salt and paprika and bake in a hot oven until the slices are a golden brown on top.

Colonials Trounce Poughkeepsie Chiefs, 9 to 3, Behind Art White

Granato Delivers Two Timely Hits; 165 See Contest

Rookie Art White pitched himself a nice ball game and Frank Granato delivered two timely hits as the Colonials routed the Poughkeepsie Chiefs 9 to 3 last night at Riverview Field in Poughkeepsie.

The official paid attendance was 165 chills and spectators. And they still want to stay in Poughkeepsie.

White permitted 11 safeties but the Colonials backed him with timely support. Ralph Matzer handled 11 chances without a bobbie at shortstop.

Art White pitched the new out-fitter who batted .370 in this league in 1947, appeared in centerfield. Johnny Elenchin was shifted to left and "Digger" O'Dell was moved to third base. Permuter had one single in five trips.

McNamara Ousted Elko collected three hits for a total of six in his last ten trips to the plate. Elenchin, O'Dell, Granato and White each clubbed a brace, while Granato accounted for a quartet of RBIs. Five Poughkeepsie players had two hits.

Eddie McNamara, Colonial second sacker, was bunched in the seventh inning for protesting a call at home plate by Umpire Bell. Granato finished the game at second and Frank O'Dell took over at first.

Kingston is without a home game until Tuesday, when the powerful Bristol Owls come in for a two-day stand.

The Colonials are in Bridgeport tonight. Waterbury on Sunday for two games and a double-header against the Chiefs on Memorial Day.

There was no official confirmation of the sale of the Chief franchise to a group of Poughkeepsie sportsmen headed by Ex-Mayor Frank Doran. Negotiations are still in progress.

Real Champs Are Those Who Repeat

Andy Campbell, extreme left, presents the 1948-49 Booster Bowling League championship trophy to Harry duBois Frey, general manager of the Freeman Publishing Company. Looking on, in usual order, are John Dittus, Jr., Robert Steeger, Harold Miller and Harold Steeger. The Freeman keglers repeated by a six game margin over Greendale Rest. MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees are the hottest teams in baseball as the pennant racers swing past the quarter pole.

At the end of the first six weeks of the 24-week major league season, the Dodgers are tied with the defending Boston Braves for the National lead. The Yankees enjoy a solid 4 1/2 game edge in the American.

It took the youthful Broos a time to get rolling but they sizzled through the west on their first long road trip. Back home at Ebbets Field last night, they moved up even with the Braves by beating the Boston ace, Johnny Sain, 4-0.

Preacher Roe, a not-so-youthful Dodger, turned in his second straight shutout with the help of a four-run seventh inning against Sain who struck out nine.

Giants Flap
Poor pitching—a familiar ailment—cost the New York Giants a chance to take over the cad. Clint Hartung failed to get past the third inning as the Phillies clubbed five Giant throwers for 14 hits and a 9-3 victory.

Al Brazie and Eddie Kuzak double-teamed the Pittsburgh Pirates to clinch a 2-1 St. Louis decision. Brazie scattered nine Pirate hits and Kazak hit a homer off Murry Dickson with a man on base to account for all the Card scores.

Schmitz Wins
Johnny Schmitz made it a clean sweep for the southpaws in the National by pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 3-1 edge over Cincinnati. Emil Verban was the big wheel for the Bruins with a double and two singles.

Eddie Lopat, top pitcher in the American, continued to reverse his normal spring form with a fifth straight victory. Usually Ed doesn't start to win until hot weather hits. The Yankee southpaw blanked the second-place Philadelphia A's with six hits, 3-0. It was the seventh Yankee victory in their last eight starts all at the Stadium.

New Indians Start
Cleveland started its season again with a mock "reopening day" and got off on the right side of the ledger with a 4-0 whitewash of the Chicago White Sox. Everybody went through the motions of re-starting the season because of the Tribe's sorry showing, losing 10 of their last 12 before last night's win.

Al Benton, purchased from Sacramento in April, did a better job than Bobby Feller did on the real opening day. Benton, 38-year-old Detroit castoff, threw a six-hitter. Detroit returned home from a poor eastern trip to break a six game losing streak with a 5-4 edge over St. Louis. Despite Dick Kokos' eighth homer, V regil Trucks squeaked home with his sixth victory. He struck out eight men, seven in the first four innings.

Rain washed out a scheduled night game between Washington and Boston.

Babe Takes Big Lead
In Women's Open Golf
Essex Fells, N. J., May 28 (AP)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias looked like money in the bank today to win the first Women's Eastern Open golf championship.

The powerful hitting Babe, whose tremendous drives amazed the crowd yesterday, had a six-stroke lead as the girls squared away for the second day of the 54-hole tournament. Belting 200 yards plus drives consistently, she covered the 6,300-yard Essex Fells Country Club course in 74 strokes, only three strokes over men's par and one under women's figures.

City League Teams
Play Exhibition
Jones Dairy donated Chez Emile, 2-1, last night in an exhibition game at the Athletic Field.

The Chezzies did not have a complete lineup and Manager Joe Hoffmann was used to round out the roster. It was reported, unofficially, that the contest was played under protest. The City League schedule resumes Tuesday.

53 Boys Pass Y Swimming Tests

Fifty-three of 65 fifth grade pupils of the Kingston school system have passed their swimming examinations after a two weeks training period at the Y.M.C.A. pool. Clarence "Chic" Correll, boys secretary of the Y, announced today.

The successful candidates negotiated distances ranging from 10 feet to a maximum of 160 feet, four lengths of the pool. Twelve of the boys flunked out.

The classes were conducted by Lou Schafer, physical director, and Clarence Correll, boys secretary. A similar free swimming instruction period for girls is being arranged under the supervision of Mr. Correll.

The five boys who negotiated 160 feet were Robert Van Ness, Cornellius Keyser, Norman DePuy, John Adkins and Bruce Clair.

Two others swam three lengths of the pool, or 120 feet, John Thurin and Joseph Reynolds.

Other results:
Two Lengths, 80 feet—James Raible, Frank Banks, Robert Powell, Anthony Grimaldi, Irving Zwilling, Louis Verghe, Robert Ashton, Ronald Anderson and Anthony DePaola.

One Length, 40 feet—Lewis Bonestell, William Wanda Joseph Woods, Glen Albright, Leith Harrison, Kenneth Panks, Stephan Thomas, Douglas Creamer, George Finch.

10 Feet—Warren Powell, Michael Goffredi, George Tiecfeft, Charles Bell, Ronald Lovey, Robert Krom.

Turnesa 4-Down At Halfway Mark

Portmarnock, Ireland, May 28 (AP)—Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., was four-down to Sam McCready of Ireland after 18-holes of their final match for the British Amateur Golf championship today.

The Little American champion ran into an opponent who was hot, and was three down after only nine holes.

McCready, a 200-pound tobacco salesman, shot the first round in 35-35—70—four strokes under par—while Turnesa—scrambled to get his 74.

Willie, who won the British title two years ago, was badly off in his driving game, and but for knocking down three long putts on the first nine would have been in hopeless position at lunch.
